Corporate Social Responsibility @ NDIM

Corporate Social Responsibility Programme at NDIM is designed to impart the basic values which our 'Vedas' and 'Scriptures' have enunciated to the students. The commitment of paying back to the society, a part of our earning & learning, which every Indian has inherited, is the value system that we are trying to re-emphasize and re-visit as part of this subject.

Students are encouraged to take up innovative programmes and workshops underlining social, economic and environmental issues and educate the public at large. The programme is designed to establish deep connect between students, society and environment. The course requires each student to spend fixed number of hours, apart from the subject training, with a corporate house or an NGO to learn and facilitate their CSR efforts.

Glimpse of the organizations where students have done training on CSR projects as part of the CSR Programme.
This is the first major industry connect for every student much before their Summer Internship.
